SUCCESS STORY

Malcolm was attending Diego Valley Charter School to study for the GED when he dropped out to focus on improving his living situation and finding work. Due to complications from these and other struggles, he was asked to leave his transitional housing. For a few months, he had nowhere to call home. With the help of Access Inc.'s ILS/WIA program, Malcolm found his way.

Malcolm's successes have been steady since participating in Access programs and events such as job-readiness training and job fairs. Once settled in his new home and with assistance from Access, Malcolm returned to his studies and passed the GED on his first try. After completing a summer internship, Malcolm has started attending community college to study electrical engineering.
